

Your investment in LeMatic equipment is just the start of your relationship with us. From new installations and staff training, through regular maintenance and upgrades, our engineers and field service technicians are just a phone call away. And, our technicians are seasoned travelers—ready to service bakeries across the globe.

Our field services team is supported by one of the best parts departments in the industry, keeping an ample inventory of the parts you need the most for LeMatic and our competition's equipment. If you need a part that seems impossible to replace, or is no longer supported by the manufacturer, our tooling department can replicate it.

For almost 50 years, bakeries that demand optimum equipment performance have depended on LeMatic Field Service professionals.
